

WWWW

1. The joint between your hand and your arm is your wrist
2. The biggest mammal is a whale
3. The instrument most people wear to tell the time is a watch
4. To close and open one eye quickly is to wink
5. How heavy something is its weight
6. Guns and knives are both kinds of weapons
7. To move your hand or arm from side to side especially to say goodbye or attract attention is to wave
8. A building where goods are stored is called a warehouse
9. A hole dug into the ground to get water or a word which means good is well
10. The material candles are made of is wax

XXXX

1. What trade name now means to photocopy? xerox
2. This musical instrument is made up of different lengths of wood and struck by small hammers. It's a xylophone
3. A common abbreviation for Christmas is X-mas
4. A photograph taken using special short wave rays to see through or into things is an x-ray
5. Someone who has no real reason to, but hates all foreigners or strangers is xenophobic

YYYY

1. A round toy which moves up and down on a string by the flick of the wrist is a yo-yo
2. The yellow part of an egg is the yolk
3. A thick white food made from milk and often flavored with fruit is yoghurt
4. Something which isn't very old is young
5. A short positive agreement in English is yes
6. A shout caused by excitement or pain is a yell
7. It takes this long for the earth to revolve around the sun. It's a year
8. The American English word for garden is yard
9. The money used in Japan is yen
10. The day before today was yesterday

ZZZZ

1. A pattern or path that turns right then left alternately is called a zigzag
2. A metal fastener which joins two sides together with interlocking teeth is a zipper
3. The striped horse-like animal or in British English a pedestrian crossing is a zebra
4. One minus one equals zero
5. The lens used on a camera which can change it's focal length is called a zoom
6. An area with particular uses or features is termed a zone
7. The American English name for courgette. It's a green or yellow cucumber shaped vegetable. zucchini
8. A kind of meditation practiced by monks is zen
9. The park where animals are kept for people to see is a zoo
10. The last letter of the English alphabet is z